

How to play

Setting up

- 1 Give every player one card and a handful of markers (pennies, buttons, mini marshmallows) or a pencil.
- 2 Cut out the 40 calling cards, fold them once and put them in a bowl or a Santa hat.
- 3 The caller keeps the tracker page and ticks every word drawn.
- 4 Draw a card, read the word loudly, show it, and put it aside.

Four ways to win

- Line: five in a row, column or diagonal. The classic; a round takes 10–15 minutes.
- Four corners: the four corner squares. Fast, good for little ones.
- Picture frame: all 16 squares around the edge. About 25 minutes.
- Blackout: every square. The long game for the end of the party.

Checking a winner

When someone shouts "Bingo!", read the words on their winning line aloud and tick them against the tracker. Every word must have been called. A false alarm is not a penalty; the player just keeps playing. Two players winning on the same word share the prize or play a one-word tie-break: the next word drawn, first to find it on their card.

Classroom and family twists

- Vocabulary round: read a clue instead of the word ("I am red and white and hang on the tree").
- Spelling round: spell the word letter by letter.
- Speed round: draw a word every ten seconds, line wins only.

Prizes that cost nothing

- First choice of the cookie plate.
- Caller for the next round.
- A candy cane or a paper crown.
